

O'KEEFFE'S Working Hands Hand Cream

Description

O'Keeffe's Working Hands cream is designed to protect your customers' most valuable tools: their hands. It helps to heal severely dry, cracked skin and reduce discomfort, filling gaps and soothing sore patches while creating a protective barrier which reduces evaporation and draws moisture to the skin.

Developed specifically for working hands, O'Keeffe's started out life as a family business when a pharmacist, Tara O'Keeffe began to develop a cream to find a solution to her father's chronically dry and cracked skin, which was caused by his rigorous lifestyle as a rancher. This cream is ideal for people who work in tough conditions such as in the outdoors and manual labour settings, including locksmiths, builders, plumbers, farmers, nurses and steelworkers.

Only a small amount is required to notice a big difference. The formula is non greasy, hypoallergenic, unscented, long lasting and easy to apply. O'Keeffe's Working Hands is the best selling hand cream in the US (according to Nielsen volume data 2017) and now O'Keeffe's are wowing customers across the UK as well with their skincare solutions that are designed to work as hard as you do.
