

SASHSTOP Torchguard Door Handle Protector To Suit Chameleon Pro Handles

Description

The Sashstop Torchguard range is a heat deflecting security plate manufactured from stainless steel plate with a white powder coated finish. It fits behind the handles to provide protection from attack by a blow torch and is simple to use. This model is designed to suit the Chameleon Pro handles and is an ideal additional security product.

UK Manufactured

Features

- Stainless steel plate with a white powder coating finish
- Provides extra security
- No drilling required
- Designed to withstand a blow torch attack

Product Table

L32890

White 224001